

'RAVE OF THRONES' IN AUSTRALIA... COMING SOON!

Sydney based company Falcona, is organising a national "Rave of Thrones" tour through the biggest cities of Australia! Kristian Nairn, better known as Hodor in the series 'Game of Thrones', will be in Oz to mix the deeper house of the Seventh Kingdom.

Even if you've haven't watched Games of Thrones in 2014, it's hard to not be aware of shows success...

It's quite surprising to imagine Hodor as a DJ, but it's not a first for Kristian Nairn. The Northern Irish-man has been a D-Jaying for a long time. Starting in metal and moving to house, 'deep and chunky!'

The tour starts at Sydney's Hi-Fi, on Thursday August 28th and continues on to Brisbane, Melbourne, Perth, Darwin and Adelaide. Westeros vibes, with Game Of Thrones characters, and fancy dress at every show!

The organiser says, 'Whatever character or creature you choose to become for the night, rest assured that all alliances and rivalries will be left at the gates to celebrate all things Game Of Thrones and all that is HODOR!'

Tickets are available here Falcona's website, check the Gig Guide, or The Music App for more details.
